

Autumn in My Heart

Autumn in My Heart

Autumn breeze in November
Sun-kissed weathering leaves flooded the path I wish to embark
Hollowing sunset on the horizon
Has left its trails of draping glow
Painted and smeared across the sky
Time stood still
Like the pendulum held hostage
Captivating scenes of endless possibility

A slight breeze out in the cold
Has compelled me to close my eyes
Slowly my mind wander off into the sky
A kaleidoscope of mysteries and adventures
Fueled the inspiration I'm lacking
Became the river of comfort flowing in my veins
Right in that moment, everything was within my reach

A moment of realization
That life is full of wonder
No paved road was ever right
Follow what and where the heart beats
Let the mind wander into places
No one has ever been before
